RETROSPECT 1978 - 1979
JOHNSTON TECHNICAL INSTITUTE

WE REMEMBER

Mr. Alvin Narron for his sincere interest in the growth of Johnston Technical Institute and the development of its students.

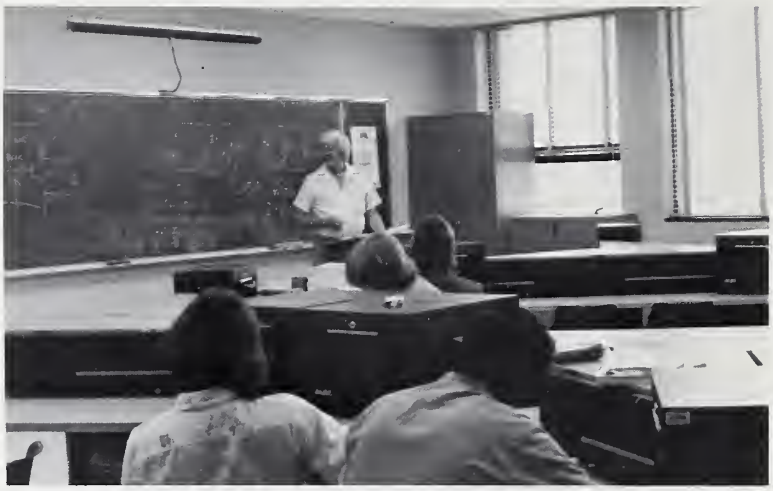
We are all better people for having known Mr. Narron, and we miss his presence and genuine concern for others.

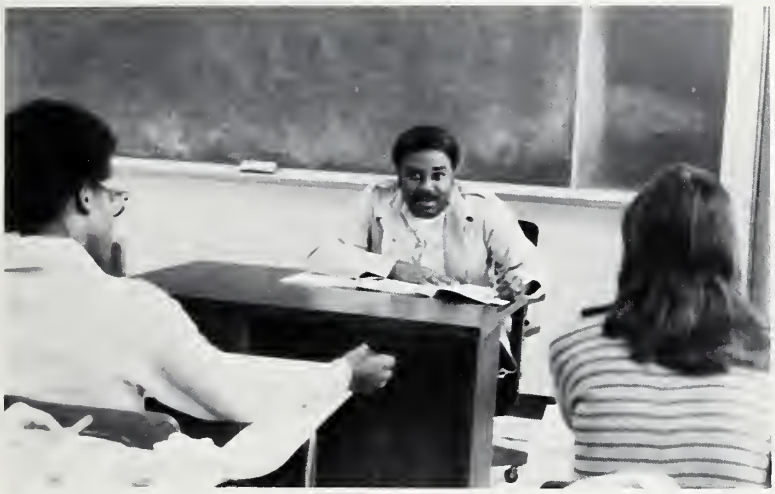
"Reflections"
But let me wake feeling warm and mellow
And everyone is a charming fellow!
Grim or gracious, that's the kind
Of grim or gracious, folks I find,
For everyone I meet, you see,
Reflects a little bit of me.

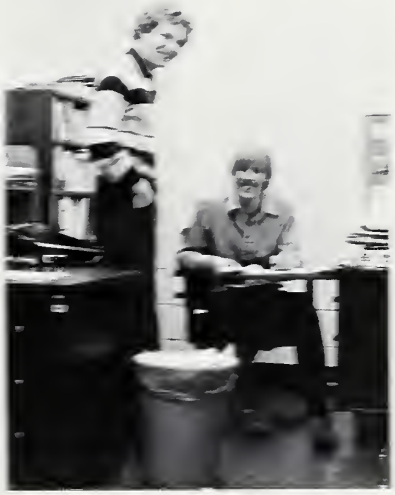
Dedication

On August 11, 1969, Johnston Technical Institute began in a limited facility with a small staff who had great expectations for the educational opportunities of Johnston County. From this ambitious beginning, J.T.I. has progressed to become a modern educational center serving every area of Johnston County and adjoining counties.

After 10 years of dynamic leadership, we gratefully dedicate the 1978-79 Restrospect to Dr. John Lisker Tart, our President, as we look to him for an even brighter educational future for many generations to come.







Dr. John Tart
President of Johnston Technical Institute

UNSAID
Words were never spoken
but I could feel them floating around in my head
waiting to be said
wanting to be heard
maybe they will leave my mouth
one day and travel the universe —
and if they go
I wonder if they will return.
— Melinda Davis

THOUGHTS
This morning, as I walked across the earth,
I began to think and wonder about its beginning, its birth.
Then I looked up at the sky so blue
And the haze of clouds slowly floating through.

Trees, still green, gently swaying, birds flying in a flock
The sound of my shoes crunching on the rock.
I felt so small and frail, looking at this wonderful world.
My God, so great, yet so gently, His wonders unfurled.

Hang on to your convictions.
Don't waiver or give in.
Be sorry that he's never learned
The value of a grin!

THE OLD MAN

As I sat on the weather-beaten wood bench in front of the bus station, I saw a young girl pick up a stick and draw a picture in the sand.

She started with the shoes of a man. They were old and worn to the point where holes almost took command. Then, she gave her imaginary person in the sand, a pair of men's pants. They seemed to sag, and they were filled with patches. Then, she drew a bench for the person to sit on. It was old and weather-beaten. She then gave the person a coat to wear. It was old, much too big, and it too was a hand-me-down. The persons's hands were tucked into the pockets, as if to show that the person was alone and without love.

She then drew the person's head and face. The face was filled with wrinkles, as if to show that her subject was old and had weathered the times. The eyes were sad, and then she gave the old man a heart by putting a tear in each of his eyes. As I sat there and slowly died, I realized that she had drawn a picture of me in the sands of time.

The staff of the 1978-79 Retrospect had help from several other students in preparing the annual. We appreciate the help these students gave especially as deadlines drew near.

If you have a dream, oh, how lucky you are!
Play out the string and let it sail far,
But follow it-ever so close-with your eyes,
For dreams have been known to be lost in the skies.
Never lose sight of it-hold fast the string-
A dream is a precious and wonderful thing!
